■Traits of Japanese People that Americas have noticed ■

Yesterday, I asked American friends of mine to tell me about some common features of Japanese people
*)Apparently the Japanese people Americans see are something like this

"If they get food that has coloring added to it they'll accept it, but not eat it They'll hold it in their hand the whole time, but they won't eat it up."

"Sometimes their head suddenly falls down"
(I'm guessing this is probably referring to bowing)
This seems to scare Americans

"When you say something they let out a relaxed A- - - - h ' noise "
"A - - - - h "

"They wear frightfully fashionable clothes every day

But when they are at home they wear really weird outfits "

"For some reason

They always have a digital camera with them "

Japanese People 【equip】

【weapon】 digital camera

【armor】 Fashionable clothes

When I look at Japanese people this way,

it seems like we are a very unique people (^^v ^ ^)

≡Extra Pictures≡

These are American Sweets!

I'm sorry, I really can't eat them |д) The above was taken in New York City